Clearing the Hurdles!

Wow, what a wonderful Christmas celebration! It has been a great time of worship during the month of December. Fellowship with family and friends has been fun and festive. Not really a hurdle, huh? God has so richly blessed us. 2016 has been very special for our family.

The new year, 2017, is upon us. More ministry and more blessings are in our future. Get ready for God to do some awesome things in our lives to glorify Himself. My prayer is for myself, and our church, to be a bolder witness in our area. Let's pray for God to put someone in our path, daily, to share His love.

May God bless you and your family this year like never before. May we witness the gospel like never before. May we see more people saved like never before.

Let's clear the hurdle of complacency in 2017, and beyond!
Happy New Year from the Cifers' family!
